

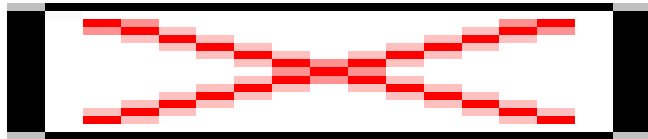

Exhibition

ICT2010 conference consists of several topics emphasizing recent advances, developments, and applications in every aspect of thermoelectrics. Over 400 participants from more than 40 countries are expected to attend the conference. We specifically arrange a large space for exhibition to help world-wide industrial people to expand their business in China as well as in Shanghai, the most modernized and commercialized city in China. We believe that your products and exhibits on ICT2010 will greatly promote the internationally-recognized reputation of your company.

Companies interested in promoting their products and services on ICT2010 are invited to reserve an exhibition space now! Your confirmation of attendance should be sent to us before March 30, 2010.
